RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 130 pages. OCLC Number: (OCoLC)56028394 Subject: Occupational training -- Government policy -- United States. Excerpt: . . . A-14 Creating Partnerships for Workforce Investment: How Services Are Provided Under WIA Revised Final Report: June 2003 Profiles of Study Sites with one agency taking a lead role, based on the theory that the pooled expertise of a number of organizations would deliver better services to a variety of customers. The lead organization would be responsible for meeting fiscal, auditing, contractual, and reporting requirements and have the authority and responsibility to act for the group. Three collaboratives consisting of national and local, community-based organizations, for-profit firms, and public agencies were awarded Boston One-Stop charters. Boston PIC was also an early, pre-WIA innovator in the area of customer choice. The local board initiated its own Individual Training Account ( ITA ) demonstration project in 1995. The pilot set aside 25 percent of Bostons training dollars to allow customers to choose from among the existing contracted providers. The Boston PIC was especially interested in seeing how the logistical aspects of the project, such as paper flow and billing issues, would work. The culmination of the project was a best practices manual for training providers, One-Stop operators, and other workforce development stakeholders. In addition, when full WIA implementation began in the Boston area, PIC staff convened provider trainings to familiarize both experienced and potential providers with the requirements of the new WIA legislation, the ITA system, and the role trainers are expected to play in the workforce development system. During the first year of full ITA implementation, training customers chose from approximately 300 eligible providers; however, 60 percent of the training dollars went to the same providers that previously held group contracts under...
