Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.The most effective engineers - the ones who have risen to become distinguished engineers and leaders at their companies - can produce 10 times the impact of other engineers, but they re not working 10 times the hours. This is just a small sampling of the hard questions I posed to them: What engineering qualities correlate with future success? What have you done that has paid off the highest returns? What separates the most effective engineers you ve worked with from everyone else? What s the most valuable lesson your team has learned...
